

WASHINGTON.

WADDILL AND BOWDEN VOTE FOR THE INFAMOUS LODGE BILL.

the Virginia Democrats Solid Against It—Davenport's Methods Adopted—Reed Could Not Bulldoze the Democrats.

(From Our Regular Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The Republicans had their way in the House today, having won a victory in the tickers of Mr. Ewart, of North Carolina, who was not here, having left for home. He was, however, paired with a Republican from Connecticut—Mr. Springer—so that his vote was not lost. In the result, he lost, but he did not weaken in the test. He made the strongest kind of a speech against the outcome of the measure, and although it did not have a great effect in the House, it will do so in the Senate, it will open the eyes of the country to the iniquities of the proposed law, and in the end is bound to do good. Mr. Ewart has shown himself to be a friend to the people, and his stand will be remembered by the leaders of the South emphatic denial of the charges that have been made against the best people of the South.

CONGRESSMAN BROWN of Virginia was not on hand. He has been privately declaring that he was against the bill, but like many others had been here to avoid all appearance of opposition. The bill, however, was the only one of the Virginia delegation adopted. All the others were present and voted—Mr. Waddill, of New York, Mr. Bowden, and the old Democratic strength in the delegation against the measures, of course.

TWO WHITE MEN.

Lethbach and Coleman were the only Republicans who voted squared to the amendment to oppose the proposed action of their party leaders. Frank, of Missouri, dodged on several of the most important propositions. The bill was introduced in the House yesterday on the opposition and put back in the bill in another form to repeat its previous action. The House, however, yesterday, the Democrats, aided by four Republicans and several dodgers on that side, knocked out that provision.

The bill, however, was brought up again, and most of the tickers were wiped off. Speaker Reed declared yesterday that the amendment had been adopted, and Mr. Bowden, of New York, and Mr. Waddill, of Ohio, admitted as much in a conversation with the reporter. Still, however, it was necessary to try another method this morning, and the wish of the notorious Johnny Davenport, of Newark, to have the bill sent to the House to pass Federal justice in the south was the snap of the day. The bill would have been destroyed.

BROWN'S TYRANNY.

The tyrant in the chair gave another extract from the House rules, this time toward the Democrats. A demand for the year and a half was made in the regular way. Reed, who was not here, and he said it would require a three-fourths vote. So far, however, it was necessary to try another method this morning, and the wish of the notorious Johnny Davenport, of Newark, to have the bill sent to the House to pass Federal justice in the south was the snap of the day. The bill would have been destroyed.

Mr. McKinley said that the adoption of the amendment would leave the court without an arm to enforce its judgment.

BROWNS FROM THE ALLEN.

Mr. McKinley said that the amendment would take from the President all the power he had to veto bills, and that it would be destroyed if the Government were deprived of the right to use Federal power to execute judicial processes under the proposed measure. This was a tall looking to him, however, to get a majority of the Congress to do it, and so he said it would require unanimous consent to order the year and a half. At this juncture, Mr. Bowden moved a motion to adjourn, and so the debate was suspended and no one could speak.

Mr. McKinley, however, got a few words in, and said he hoped no one would object, but the Democrats opposing this action in the House had a right to do so.

It did not go so far as the other end of the Capitol—that was, if the Speaker did not abolish the United States Senate in accordance with his programme. (Laughter.)
